What sparked your interest in this project?

I'd worked on the Netflix show Godless with Scott Frank before and I loved that experience so much. He's such a great storyteller and writer. One day, he called me and started talking about this new project and the character he would like me to play. I was just excited to get the opportunity to work with him again, because I trusted him, and I knew that it would be a project that would be well written. I didn't even have to read it - I immediately knew that I wanted to do it.
